Our hike to Umbrella Tree was so much fun! We had time to climb in the big branches of the Bay tree and time to toss rocks into the flowing creek. The children were great hikers and it was a beautiful day!

Friday was RAINBOW day and Miss Mia was kind enough to send me a picture while I was sadly sick in bed. We also received an entertaining delivery of soil for our new garden bed!

Sunday's family work day was very successful as we began refreshing some spaces. This also prepped our garden so the children could begin planting this week. Feel free to pop on back to see all of our little baby plants!

The Acorns are sweetly tending their new garden space and we are all very excited to harvest the fruits of our labor. One of the most valuable experiences we can offer children is gardening- to practice gentle care and determination and to practice successes and failures while connecting to nature.
